Re: Jane Gibson's Testimony

Jane Gibson testified, (page 42 in copy which Mr. Watson has, which would be second or third page of her testimony) that she heard a wagon coming along the road from the direction of Millstone, etc., and that it went on until it stopped right in front of her corn field - about the middle of it - and that then she came out of her lane on to Hamilton Road and followed the wagon into De Russey's lane.

In following out this statement, Mr. Watson and I have questioned Frank T. Kee, who informs us that Jane Gibson's corn field that year was on the side of her lane toward Millstone and not on the side toward De Russey's lane. He is positive of that fact for the reason that he went upon the farm with Mrs. Fraley who was desirous of purchasing corn-stalks for her cattle.

Respectfully submitted:
